

freedom noun /'friː.dəm/

the condition or right of being able or allowed to do, say, think, etc. whatever you want to, without being controlled or limited.

Freedom is inherently valuable and plays a role in human progress. It is worth measuring carefully.

The Human Freedom Index (HFI) presents the state of human freedom in the world based on a broad measure that encompasses personal, civil, and economic freedom.

Freedom in the World produces annual scores representing the levels of political rights and civil liberties in each state and territory, on a scale from 1 (most free) to 7 (least free). The nations are then classified as "Free", "Part(ial)ly Free", or "Not Free". These are widely reported in the media and used as sources by political researchers
