The begining of police brutality.

Police first used tear gas and pepper spray on peaceful protesters and called them riots.